

Number of damaged ears in a field protected by a laser scarecrow and an adjacent unprotected field in five harvests from August 17 to September 8. Both fields were planted with the same mix of 8 varieties ranging in maturity from 72 to 86 days. Protected and unprotected fields were swapped after each harvest. Bird damage levels were low as a percentage of total yield but differences are significant ($p= 0.005$).