

Figure 2. The basis of genomic selection is that genotypes predict the heifer's performance. In this example, heifers with AA genotypes would produce 200 pounds more milk than heifers with a CC genotype and 100 pounds more than the heifers with an AC genotype.