

Figure 5. There were no statistically significant differences between treatments except for at the second time-point, where Mycostop performed better than the untreated control.