

Figure 7. Clinton County cooperator soybean experiment on June 21, 2016, three weeks after drilling soybeans. Late killed rye was not successfully terminated and continued to grow, competing with soybeans until a post-emergence application of glyphosate was sprayed July 13.