

Figure 3. Schematic of the measured soil, hydrological, and atmospheric parameters, which allow for the quantification of infiltration capacity, runoff, and energy available for melt. Not pictured: passive, divider runoff collection equipment with load cells and snow sticks for snow depth measurements.