

Trial Replication Diagram Each Trial will be randomly assigned to one of 3 Identical High tunnels and replicated in blocks across the tunnel to control for variable soil conditions, light or climate conditions within the tunnels. The first and last three feet of each tunnel will not be included to reduce edge effects. The trial beds will be in the center of each tunnels to reduce edge effects . After year 1 the trials will be randomly assigned again to different tunnels.

