

Breakout Session:

February 12, 2025 Tri-State SARE webinar - Managing a pasture-based system in today's changing climate

10:40 – 11:00 am

This session will allow participants to have an open discussion around the topic of changing weather and the impact it has on agriculture. Below are some prompting questions if needed to keep the conversation moving.

Once everyone is in the room and settled, please introduce yourself and ask everyone in the room to do the same.

Prompting questions:

- What climate impacts are you seeing/experiencing?
- What resources do you use/point your clients to, to address these climate impacts?
- What adaptation strategies are you exploring or interested in learning more about?
  - What strategies have worked well?
  - Which strategies have not worked out?
- For service providers, how many of your producers are actively thinking about this topic?
- For service providers, what are some of the big questions you get from your producers around this topic?
