

Figure 1. Collecting winter cereal biomass samples in 2015 at the research station in Aurora, NY. Samples were clipped 4 inches above the soil surface to simulate mechanical harvest.