

Agroforestry, Pasture Renovation, and Advanced Grazing Pasture Walk

Thursday, September 14, 2023, 10 a.m. - 1 p.m.
Maplemont, 2742 US-5 South, Barnet, VT 05821

Join UVM Extension Grazing Specialist Amber Reed and Dartmouth College Agroforestry Researcher Kristen Jovanelly for a pasture walk focused on silvopasture, advanced grazing and pasture renovation.

Amber will discuss her continuing adventures in pasture renovation and rehabilitation, and show how she incorporates trees into her advanced grazing system. We can geek-out with a little pasture math and recordkeeping (if participants want), and discuss bird and bee friendly farming tricks and tips.

Kristen will talk about the benefits and challenges of trees, different agroforestry systems, considerations of species and site selection as well as establishment and management.

Questions? For more information, to register, or to request a disability-related accommodation to participate in this program, call or email Amber Reed at 802-656-7608 or amber.reed@uvm.edu by Monday, August 28, 2023 so we may assist you.
