

Appendix B - Sample Images of Poultry and Swine Facilities

Old style wood-framed poultry production house used for hay storage.

Exterior of standard steel-framed drop-wall poultry production house.

Interior of steel-framed drop-wall poultry production house.

Team meeting with poultry farmers in Oklahoma. Structure is unused drop-wall structure.

Team meeting with poultry farmers in Oklahoma.

Cooling pads of tunnel-ventilated poultry production structure.

Exhaust fans of tunnel-ventilated poultry production structure.

Poultry operation in Arkansas using positive pressure cooling and drop walls.

Interior of positive pressure ventilated poultry production structure.

Discussing the control systems of positive pressure cooling structures with poultry producer.

Swine containment finishing facilities.

Swine containment facilities used to produce replacement sows.

Hoop house containing tanks used to produce prawns.

Mushroom production in Oklahoma.