

Northeast Organic/Sustainable Potato (NOSP) Project: Final Survey

1. Please check all types of project events in which you participated:

Variety trialing

Workshop

Field day

2. Please list all potato varieties that you grew in 2011. (Please include any you received from the Northeast Organic/Sustainable Potato Project plus those from other sources.)

3. Please list all potato varieties you plan to plant in 2012.

4. Are you growing any potato varieties as a result of the Northeast Organic/Sustainable Potato Project activities? If so, please list them.

5. Are there varieties you have become aware of through the Northeast Organic/Sustainable Potato Project or through other sources that you would grow if you could access tubers for planting? If so, please list them.

6. As a result of the Northeast Organic/Sustainable Potato, are you more or less likely to:

a. Replant your own potatoes? Please explain.

b. Share potatoes for planting with other growers? Please explain.

-
7. As a result of the Northeast Organic/Sustainable Potato, have you made a change in your potato management practices? If so, please explain.
8. What is your biggest concern or constraint about your potato production?
9. What aspects of the Northeast Organic/Sustainable Potato Project would you like to see continue?
10. What aspects of the Northeast Organic/Sustainable Potato Project could be improved?
11. Please rank the following in terms of your interest in participating (5=high interest, 1=no interest). Feel free to use the same rank more than once.
- ___ research/educational events on management of potato diseases
 - ___ research/educational events on management of potato insect pests
 - ___ research/educational events on improving potato yield and tuber quality
 - ___ trialing potato varieties
 - ___ growing and selling potato seed tubers
 - ___ swapping varieties with other growers

Other comments on the Northeast Organic/Sustainable Potato Project or on growing potatoes: