

Montana Agritourism Fellows Program: Developing Leaders to Advance Sustainable Agritourism

Applications Due October 1, 2022

About the Program

Our goal is to establish and train a cohort of 12 leaders who will advance communications with farmers, ranchers, professionals, and communities about sustainable agritourism.

How Does It Work?

Over the course of 2 years, fellows will attend 4 unique 2-day seminars hosted at various sustainable agritourism operations across Montana consisting of workshops, tours, and networking opportunities.

Who Should Apply?

- Agricultural Professionals
- Farmers/Ranchers/Growers
- Extension and Tourism Industry Professionals
- Economic and Community Development Specialists
- Agricultural Educators
- Government Employees

Program Details

Fellows will gain sustainable agriculture/agritourism knowledge and skills through exposure to industry issues, experiences, and experts. Fellows will learn how to advocate for sustainable agritourism and conduct outreach events for industry promotion.

Costs and Expectations

- Lodging and program costs paid by the Western SARE grant
- Participants pay for travel costs
- Full participation is expected and attendance at all seminars is mandatory.
