WEDNESDAY SESSIONS

9-9:45 AM

PREDATOR MANAGEMENT IN FREMONT COUNTY

Tracy Frye, Fremont County Trapper

Dave Fowler, Fremont County Trapper

Fremont County producers deal with all kinds of predators! Come hear what our county trappers have been up to and the projects that they are working on to protect our herds and flocks in Fremont County. There's guaranteed to be some exciting stories in this session!

BARNYARDS AND BACKYARDS: ONLINE RESOURCES TOUR

Jennifer Thompson, Small Acreage Outreach Coordinator, UW Extension

Jenny will take everybody on a virtual tour of some of UW's online resources. She will discuss the Barnyards and Backyards magazine, website, and various publications that you can find in Extension offices. She will also talk about the new Barnyards and Backyards LIVE podcast and show.

FREMONT COUNTY WEED AND PEST PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Aaron Foster, Supervisor, Fremont County Weed and Pest

Aaron will present a FCWP program review including: special management programs, grasshopper updates, the Russian olive program, and high priority weeds to be watching for.

10-10:45 AM

MARKETING FARM/RANCH PRODUCTS DIRECTLY TO CONSUMERS

Ernie Schierwagen, President, Fremont County Master Gardeners

In today's world, there are growing opportunities for ag-producers to market their products directly to consumers. Producers are finding ways to diversify and become more profitable. Learn from our local Master Gardeners who have experience selling products (fruits, vegetables, meat, milk, eggs, etc.) directly to consumers in Fremont County.

SUPPLEMENTATION CONSIDERATIONS FOR COWS/HEIFERS DURING THE WINTER MONTHS

Mckenna Brinton, UW Extension Educator, Uinta County

A common question we get in Extension offices every winter is, "Which supplement option should I buy for my cows?" Mckenna will discuss some important winter feeding considerations that you need to know to keep your cows and heifers productive now and in the future. The supplement you purchase needs to cover your herd's nutrient requirements but also shouldn't be too hard on the checkbook!

SIMPLE SPRAYER CALIBRATION

Bob Shellard, Assistant Supervisor, Fremont County Weed and Pest

Calibrating spray equipment is without a doubt the #1 question that is asked of our Fremont County Weed and Pest professionals. Also, applying the correct amount (not too much or too little) of chemical to the plant is extremely important when effectively controlling weeds. Bob will present a calibration class using the "reverse 1/128th" calibration method, and how to easily change your calibration to fit your application goals.

11-11:45 AM

CURRENT EVENTS IN THE WYOMING SHEEP INDUSTRY

Amy Hendrickson, Executive Director, Wyoming Wool Growers Association

Hear about important topics and current events in the Wyoming sheep industry.

HEIFER DEVELOPMENT

Dr. Shelby Rosasco, UW Extension Beef Specialist

Dr. Rosasco is the University of Wyoming's new Beef Extension Specialist. She has a wealth of knowledge and experience with developing replacement heifers and will discuss some important considerations in her first-ever presentation at Farm and Ranch Days.

CWC'S ROLE IN LOCAL AG: FARM INCUBATOR, BEGINNING FARMER TRAINING PROGRAM AND MEAT SCIENCE ENTREPRENEURSHIP

Joanne Slingerland, Outreach Director, Central Wyoming College, Lander, and the Alpine Science Institute

CWC is launching ambitious and innovative programs focusing on the development of agriculture entrepreneurs. The vision to "Grow our Own" will strengthen the growing local food movement in Fremont County and beyond. Come learn about the new farm business incubator and beginning farmer training program starting in April at CWC's Alpine Science Institute and CWC's new mobile meat slaughter, processing and package unit.

FRANK'S BUTCHER SHOP - EXPANDING RETAIL OF WYOMING MEAT

Bryce Brenton, Vice President Cattle Operations, Frank's Butcher Shop

Frank's Butcher Shop has big plans to expand retail of Wyoming meat in Fremont County and in other locations in Wyoming. Come and listen to their plans for the future

CARDIOVASCULAR HEALTH SERVICES IN FREMONT COUNTY

Alan Daugherty, Owner, Western Wyoming Medical

Dr. Claude Minor, Doctor, Western Wyoming Medical

No matter your occupation, it is important to keep your heart healthy. Living in Wyoming, it is normal for us to have to travel long distances for quality health care. However, big things are happening in Fremont County and we might not have to travel that far after all for some things. Western Wyoming Medical is providing world-class care by using a compassionate and comprehensive approach to precision rural medicine. They are taking an individualized approach to each and every patient, accounting for everything from lifestyle habits, location, and family history to provide world-class cardiovascular care—all from Lander, Wyoming.

12-12:45 PM

LOCAL RESOURCE IMPROVEMENT AND COST-SHARE PROGRAMS

Cathy Meyer, Lower Wind River Conservation District

Kelsey Beck, Popo Agie Conservation District

Erin Hanelly, Dubois/Crowheart Conservation District

Join Fremont County Conservation District managers for a discussion of ongoing efforts to improve local resources and make cost-share programs available to folks wanting to make improvements to their properties.

UW RANCH MANAGEMENT AND AGRICULTURE LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

Pepper Jo Six, Program Coordinator, University of Wyoming

Pepper Jo was recently hired by the University of Wyoming to coordinate the launch of the new Ranch Management and Agriculture Leadership program offered through UW. The new program will offer training to career ranch managers and agricultural leaders. This program includes a bachelor's degree and post-baccalaureate education in ranch management and agricultural leadership. Each level incorporates workforce development, practical experiences, research-based technical knowledge and real-world problem solving through interactions with industry leaders throughout the West.

KEYNOTE 1:45-2:45 PM

LOOKING FOR DIAMONDS—FINDING THE GOOD IN EVERYTHING YOU DO IN LIFE

Peggy DesEnfants – Wyoming rancher and advocate for agriculture

Peg and her husband, Greg, run a cow/calf operation 25 miles north of Torrington. Greg is a 4th generation rancher, and Peg is a relative newcomer to the business ... 43 years to be exact! Peg married into the world of ranching and discusses her journey from town girl to hired hand. Join us as we explore finding the diamonds in all that we do.

THURSDAY SESSIONS

9-12:45 AM

PRIVATE PESTICIDE CLASS

Chance Marshall, UW Extension Educator, Fremont County

Robert Finley, Fremont County Weed & Pest

Must attend all sessions in-person

This class is required to certify individuals who need to obtain or renew their Private Pesticide Applicator License. Note: you must attend the entire class to receive certification

GRAZING STRATEGIES DURING DRY YEARS

Barton Stam, UW Extension Educator, Hot Springs County

2021 might be a dry year! Cattle producers should be thinking about a grazing management plan during drought years. Barton will discuss ways to adapt grazing plans to get through dry times.

WYOMING LIVESTOCK DISEASE UPDATE

Dr. Jim Logan, Wyoming State Veterinarian

Dr. Hallie Hasel, Assistant Wyoming State Veterinarian

Animal health and regulatory disease updates in Wyoming coming directly from the State Vet's office.

DEALING WITH EMERGENCY SITUATIONS ON THE FARM/RANCH

Lauri Wempen, Guardian Flight–Wyoming

Accidents can happen on the farm or ranch. Being prepared can be the difference maker and save lives. The Guardian life flight crew will land their helicopter at the fairgrounds and discuss what is needed for a safe landing zone. The crew will also go through a few first-response actions such as: stopping the bleed, CPR, and other things that can be done until help arrives."

10-10:45 AM

[PRIVATE PESTICIDE CLASS CONTINUES]

COVER CROPS FOR SOIL HEALTH AND GRAZING

Dr. Caitlin Youngquist, UW Extension Educator, Washakie County

This interactive session will highlight some of the annual forage crops that have been successfully used in the Big Horn Basin. Examples of seed mixes will be available to look at, and resources for choosing the right species for your system

STRATEGIES TO BEST-UTILIZE HAY RESOURCES

Alex Malcolm, UW Extension Educator, Fremont County

Many livestock producers had to purchase hay at a higher price this year to feed through the winter. If 2021 turns out to be a dry year, hay could be expensive and harder to come by than normal. Alex will discuss ways to best-utilize your resources and prevent waste.

11-11:45 AM

[PRIVATE PESTICIDE CLASS CONTINUES]

TOXIC PLANTS TO AVOID DURING DRY YEARS: POTENTIAL MANAGEMENT STRATEGIES

Brian Sebade, UW Extension Educator, Albany County

This presentation will cover some of the more common types of poisonous plants managers deal with during periods of drought. Discussion of potential management strategies when faced with poisonous plants and helpful hints for proper identification will be provided.

THE DO'S AND DON'TS OF HAVING A FAMILY MILK COW

Amanda Small, Wind River Indian Reservation Extension Educator

Having a "family milk cow" is a trend that seems to be coming back! Amanda and her family have a few dairy cows themselves and they enjoy always having fresh milk on hand. However, there are several important things that people need to realize before having their own "family milk cow."

12-12:45 PM

[PRIVATE PESTICIDE CLASS CONTINUES]

GETTING STARTED IN THE SHEEP INDUSTRY

Ty Jarvis, Fremont County Sheep Producer

Ty and Esther Jarvis found their way into the sheep industry in 2018 with the purchase of 345 old-age ewes. They started on 40 acres with approximately 25 acres of irrigated pasture. Since then, they have grown and expanded their operation to include more animals and grazing allotments. The Jarvis' represent an example of young people becoming involved in a sector of the ag industry and being profitable. Ty will discuss their experience getting started in the sheep business, growing their business, and also how they utilize guard dogs in their operation.

FARM AND RANCH FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

Eric Watson, District Conservationist, NRCS Riverton

The new District Conservationist for our area, Eric Watson will discuss the financial assistance programs and qualifications that are available to farmers, ranchers, and landowners in Fremont County.

1:45-2:45 PM - KEYNOTE

307 MEAT COMPANY AND MARKETING MEAT

Keynote Speakers: Kelcey Christensen - Founder and President, 307 Meats

Makenna Greenwald - Marketing Manager, 307 Meats

The 307 Meat Company is a Wyoming business designed to serve Wyoming people. Using real-world experience, hard work and excellent customer service, their mission is to bridge the gap between producers and consumers in the meat industry to create a unique, high-quality meat buying experience. 307 Meat company's goal is to assist Wyoming ranchers in increasing profit margins while providing a variety of products that are unmatched in quality. Kelcey and Makenna will discuss the exciting future of marketing Wyoming meats and what this could mean for Wyoming ranchers.

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

PEGGY DESENFANTS

Peg and her husband, Greg, run a cow/calf operation 25 miles north of Torrington. Greg is a 4th generation rancher, and Peg is a relative newcomer to the business....43 years to be exact! Peg married into the world of ranching and discusses her journey from town girl to hired hand.

KELCEY CHRISTENSEN

Born and raised in the Tongue River Valley and Thunder Basin of Wyoming, Kelcey has always loved this state and the agricultural industry. As the son and grandson of butchers, his passion for meat processing began early, but was solidified his freshman year at the University of Wyoming when he began working at the Meat Lab. Originally planning to attend vet school, Kelcey decided that his dream would be to one day own his own processing plant in Wyoming. After graduation, he spent two and a half years as a commercial lender and the next 11 years as the Meat Lab manager at the University of Wyoming before finally breaking ground as the founder and president of 307 Meat Company.
