

No-Till Vegetable Production Twilight Meeting

When: July 12, 2018; 5:30-8:30 P.M.

Where: Sickler Farms, Moatsville, WV

Information:

Anyone interested in learning about the commercial, no-till production of vegetables for field and high tunnel production should attend West Virginia University Extension Service's free Horticulture No Till Twilight Meeting, Thursday, July 12, 2018 at Sickler Farms near Philippi, WV. The tour starts at 5:30 P.M and ends at approximately 8:30 P.M

The field day will focus on conservation and no-till production of vegetable crops grown in both the high tunnel and open-field. Cover crops and no-till planting methods will be discussed and demonstrated. No pre-registration is required.

Location:

Sickler Farms is located at 1739 Chestnut Ridge Rd., Moatsville, WV 26405, ≈ 4 miles from Philippi, WV (Barbour County).

For more information

Lewis W. Jett, WVU Extension Horticulture Specialist can provide further information. He can be contacted at 304-288-2116 or Lewis.Jett@mail.WVU.edu
