

World PEAS Food Hub

Connecting local, diverse farmers to consumers like you.

Where does this produce come from?

The World PEAS Food Hub!

World PEAS purchases sustainably grown produce from over 30 beginning, immigrant, and refugee farmers in the Greater Boston area who work with New Entry Sustainable Farming Project.

World PEAS acts as the intermediary so that small-scale and under-resourced farmers are able to reach diverse and secure markets. We make sure that produce reaches those most in need by partnering with organizations serving low-income and food insecure clients.

Fresh
Harvested daily from small-scale farmers

Local

Sourced within 100 miles of Boston

Sustainable

Grown using only sustainable & organic practices

For more information, visit: www.worldpeascsa.org

World PEAS Food Hub is a program of New Entry Sustainable Farming Project, a beginning farmer training organization in Lowell.