

Small

Ruminant

Field Day

Course offered by:
WVU Extension Service, Northeast SARE,
and Mountainview Veterinary Services

Where: Snowy Creek Dorsets Farm
4147 Aurora Pike, Aurora, WV 26705

Cost: The event is free and open to the public

When: Saturday, September 7, 2019
9 - 10:00 a.m. Mark, LaDeana & Lindsey Teets, Hosts
10 - 11:00 a.m. Brad Smith, WVU Grant County Extension Agent
11 - 12:00 p.m. Isaiah Smith, Mountainview Veterinary Services

Registration: WVU Preston County Extension Office 304-329-1391

Topics Include:

Importance of a Handling Facility • Good Marketing Practices • Common Management Systems • Challenges for Production • Animal Health Protocols • How to Work With Your Veterinarian

Afterward you can join the WV Conservation Agency program "Restoring Fields After Winter Feeding" using summer annuals and feeding site rotation techniques. A boxed lunch at 1:30 p.m. at the Kingwood VFW at 13067 South Preston Highway, Kingwood, WV 26537 starts it off. A field demonstration will follow at the nearby Adam & Elizabeth Foley farm along Snider Loop Road. The program is open to the public at no cost. Call Amy Cosco at 304-296-0081 or email mcd@wvca.us to register.