

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY NATIONAL SHEEP IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM (N.S.I.P.) WORKSHOP

Getting Your Genetics Right: Converting Performance Records into Relevant Decision-Making Tools.

Date:

Saturday 23rd April 2016
8:00am to 2:00pm

Where:

West Virginia University (WVU)
Agricultural Sciences Building Rm 1001
Evansdale Drive, Morgantown WV

Program:

Dr. Marlon Knights, West Virginia University Associate Professor Reproductive Physiology and Mr. Russell "Rusty" Burgett, NSIP Program Director

Topics to be covered:

- Defining and ranking of traits
- How genetic information (breeding values, BVs) can assist in improving traits Identified
- Approaches to selection of breeding animals
- Benefits of knowing the genetic value of animals
- Developing breeding objectives
- Enrolling and using the NSIP/Lamplan System

REGISTRATION IS FREE

Click link to register: <http://goo.gl/forms/Uhbn26jmt9>

For more information please contact:

Dr. Marlon Knights 304-293-1946

marlon.knights@mail.wvu.edu

Hosted by the National Sheep Improvement Program (NSIP), Davis College of Agriculture
Natural Resources and Design and Division of Animal and Nutritional Sciences